NOTHING CAN BEAT A GOOD PADDLE . . .

What's it matter if the sun has gone and the first day of winter looms around the corner? When there's paddling to be done these Winfield kids don't hold back. Melting snow formed a mighty fine pool and provided an exciting day on the slow journey to school.

Air Traffic Controllers Agree On Ottawa's Offer

OTTAWA (CP) — Negotiators for almost 800 air traffic controllers agreed to accept a government wage offer late Friday and called off a strike set for next Tuesday.

The break came less than two hours before the Commons was to start an emergency sitting to deal with a government bill outlawing the walkout.

Revenue Minister Benson, his

Bid To Modify Pension Bill Fails After Five Attempts

OTTAWA (CP) — The opposition failed five times Friday to modify the government's bill to provide a guaranteed monthly income of $105 for old age pensioners—but served notice that it will make another try Monday.

Debate on the pension supplement is to continue Monday, but will be cut short when Finance Minister Sharp presents his mini-budget to the House at 8 p.m.

"We will find another opportunity to deal with the matter," said S. J. A. Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre) when the last of his three amendments was ruled out of order. His first two were defeated on standing votes.

Judge Hands Down Rule On 'Death Of A President'

NEW YORK (AP)—A judge has ordered author William Manchester and two publishers to appear before him Dec. 27 to show cause why an injunction against the book, Death of a President, should not be granted.

The injunction against the book about the assassination of President John F. Kennedy is being sought by late president's widow.

Justice Saul S. Strat of the Manhattan Supreme Court said he would decide on the matter "shortly" after the hearing.

Atlantic Group-Air-Fares Cut By Up To 32 Per Cent

ROME (AP) — The International Air Transport Association (IATA) announced today cuts of up to 32 per cent in group fares for the busy North Atlantic routes.

The reduced fares do not involve individual first and economy or tourist class tickets, but package tours arranged by travel agencies.

voiced choked with emotion, announced to the Commons that the strike was off.

Later, outside the chamber, he said that the settlement will mean an average wage increase of about 13 per cent. This would be on top of wage increases of 15 per cent the controllers had received under normal civil service pay awards since July, 1965.

The extra pay would be designed to compensate the controller crews for the mental stress involved in their specialized radar and radio work that guides planes in and out of Canadian airports.

THE CANADIAN AIR TRAFFIC CONTROLLERS ASSOCIATION had called the strike for 8 a.m. local time Tuesday to back demands that the government accept pay recommendations made in a report last month by Judge J. B. Robinson.

Mr. Benson said the Robinson report would have meant a pay increase of 24 per cent. The government had refused to adopt it because the judge's inquiry was not supposed to deal with specific pay rates.

After the strike was called the government said it would introduce an emergency bill to prevent it.

Friday the Commons gave unanimous consent to a motion for special sittings Friday night and all day today to handle the legislation. The sittings were cancelled when Mr. Benson reported the settlement.

Mr. Benson said the increase will boost the maximum salary for the main operating category to around $10,800 a year from the present $9,528.

Under the Robinson plan this maximum would have jumped to $11,820.

Moderate Quake Shakes New Delhi

NEW DELHI (AP)—An earthquake of moderate intensity shook Delhi and other cities of north central India for about 30 seconds early Saturday. No damage or casualties were reported.

South Africa Has 'Secret Weapon'

JOHANNESBURG (CP-AP)—South Africans have learned that their government has developed a new secret weapon.

Defence Minister Pieter Botha disclosed the mysterious weapon in a vague way Friday and South African newspapers splashed the news in big headlines.

But today the country was no wiser about what the weapon is.

Botha declined to give any more details. In a speech at Krugersdorp he said only that it will "assure this country's safety."

The Rand Daily Mail said some observers thought the weapon might be a guided missile. It quoted Prof. Arthur Bieksley, head of the applied mathematics department of Witwatersrand University here, as saying it is not nuclear.

The South African Press Association reported the mystery weapon "has evoked intense world-wide interest."

Pressed by reporters on whether the weapon was a rocket or a nuclear type, Botha, who had said it was "unlike any other in existence," replied "I don't wish to comment on this."

Hanoi Told 'Surrender'

SAIGON (CP) — American planes showered Hanoi and the Red River Delta with millions of surrender leaflets today.

A U.S. spokesman said air force planes dropped nearly 2,500,000 leaflets calling on the young men of North Vietnam "to leave your unit when you are sent south" and to enjoy good treatment from the allied forces.

The leaflet drop was conducted while a worldwide dispute raged over United States air raids on the North Vietnamese capital area earlier this week.

Communist China claimed its embassy in Hanoi was seriously damaged by the raids, and the North Vietnamese said more than 100 civilians were killed.

The United States has repeatedly denied any bombs fell in Hanoi itself in the raids Tuesday and Wednesday.

The U.S. military command has reported no raids near Hanoi since then, although U.S. planes have struck at other targets in the Communist North.

Unofficial reports said weather over the Hanoi area since Thursday has been too poor for bombing.

He's Knocked Out Of Yule Tree Trade

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—William Knack has been knocked out of the Christmas tree business by a thief, Knack said Friday. 422 trees valued at $1,062 were stolen from a corner lot he was operating.

Peking Rants At U.S. Raid

PEKING (Reuters)—The Peking People's Daily carried pictures today which it said showed damage to its embassy in Hanoi caused by U.S. bombers Wednesday.

The printing of the pictures followed a protest by the foreign ministry against the "grave provocation carried out by the U.S. pirate aircraft in brazenly bombing the Chinese Embassy in the Democratic Republic of Vietnam."

A picture in The Daily showed a building with much of its roof blown off and some of its rafters wrecked. Part of the wall appeared to have been shattered.

Another showed pieces of metal which the caption said were part of the remains of a rocket fired at the embassy by a U.S. plane.

Today, the newspaper made no mention whether anyone was killed or injured in the raid.

In Washington Friday, the U.S. state department had no immediate comment on the Peking charge. But a spokesman referred to a defence department statement which said there was no basis for the earlier allegation that American bombs hit the City of Hanoi itself.

Today's big coverage of the alleged raid broke a two-day silence and was the first the Chinese people have heard of the incident.

Nearly half of the six-page People's Daily was devoted to Vietnam, which displaced the ideological campaign for the study of the works of Communist Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung as the main article for several months.

In a dispatch from Tokyo The Associated Press quoted the New China News Agency as saying four U.S. planes dived-bombed the embassy, seriously damaging the building and partly damaging a nearby office of the news agency.

It said the U.S. will get "redoubled punishment for your crime."

Other Communist centres joined the controversy.

North Vietnam's official news agency said U.S. pilots fired rockets at the Chinese and Romanian embassies and the U.S. bombers attacked residential areas inside Hanoi and on its outskirts Tuesday and Wednesday.

It charged more than 100 persons were killed or wounded in the two raids.

Sharp 'Showed Negligence' In Not Probing Group's Fall

TORONTO (CP)—Accountant William Gruber said today in a statement that Finance Minister Sharp showed negligence in not investigating the affairs of the Prudential Finance group of companies after having been told last January that something was amiss.

Mr. Sharp told the House of Commons Friday that Mr. Gruber had advised federal government officials in January that he had significant information about Prudential Finance and its subsidiaries. But the finance minister pinned chief responsibility on the Ontario government for failing to take action before Prudential Finance collapsed.

Mr. Sharp said he understood Mr. Gruber, a former employee of Prudential Finance's auditor, also told his story to the Ontario government "which was primarily responsible in the matter."

Mr. Gruber, in his statement today, denied that he had informed provincial government officials of the company's affairs.

Mr. Gruber said he gave federal officials specific names, dates and transactions, requesting co-operation "of the various government departments for legal protection should any of the third parties bring action against me as a result."

Mr. Sharp told the Commons Mr. Gruber had had "conversations" with both the superintendent of insurance and his chief examiner. But he said the superintendent had no lawful right to offer the legal protection by Mr. Gruber.

New Area-Wide Referendum Announced At Victoria Meet

Reports today indicated a second referendum providing for establishment of an Okanagan Regional College may be presented.

However, presentation of a referendum appeared contingent on the addition of the Penticton school district to the nine districts already comprising the college region.

A meeting between the mayors of Kelowna, Penticton and Vernon and Education Minister Peterson was scheduled for Tuesday in Victoria.

Mr. Peterson met Friday with college president Norman Walker and council chairman Frank Venables.

The meeting was followed with an announcement from Victoria that agreement was reached on a "new area-wide referendum" for the college.

Commenting today, Mr. Walker said the minister "indicated he was still of the opinion there should be a college covering the whole of the region."

The meeting was set up at the request of Okanagan officials to determine whether or not a second referendum can be presented.

NO DATE SET

Mr. Peterson said no date was proposed but said the referendum would follow a local plebiscite on the question of bringing Penticton into the program.

The first referendum was defeated Dec. 10 when only 55 per cent approval was obtained from throughout the nine school districts.

Penticton school district was not included in the voting as a result of its voters turning down an earlier plebiscite to allow formation of the college region and council.

Frogmen Find Second Body From Capsized Freighter

MONTREAL (CP) — Frogmen recovered a second body early today from the coastal freighter Cabot, which capsized early Friday while being loaded in Montreal harbor.

Police said identification of the body was expected later today. It was found in the cabin of missing crew member Gerard Leblond of Cap Chat, Que., the vessel's second officer.

The body of Marcel Cote, of St. Siméon, Que., third officer on the 3,893-ton freighter, was recovered Friday afternoon.

Nine of the ship's 21 members were injured when the ship keeled over.

Federal investigators today were trying to establish why the 400-foot, $8,000,000, 18-month-old ship suddenly capsized. She now is lying on her starboard side in about 30 feet of water.

At the time, the Cabot was in the final stages of loading at Shed 66 for one of her regular runs to St. John's, Nfld. This is a few hundred yards from Shed 55 where the package freighter Fort William caught fire and sank following an explosion Sept. 14, 1965, causing the deaths of five men.

An official of the vessel's owners, Clarke Steamship Co. Ltd., said Friday the cause was not a shift in cargo.

James H. Hutton, general manager of the company, said the company had begun an immediate investigation. He believed the cause was a leak although the lowest of the ship's motor vehicles and all open at the time, was two feet above the waterline.

Most of the crew members were asleep when the ship rolled.

They escaped, some in underclothing, some in nothing at all. Some were taken off by firemen using ladders.

UN Adopts Sanctions Move To Topple Smith Regime

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The Security Council Friday night adopted mandatory economic sanctions for the first time in United Nations history in a move to bring down Rhodesia's white-minority government. But failure to provide for enforcement machinery immediately raised doubts the boycott would work.

The 15-country council ordered all 122 UN members to boycott 12 specific exports from Rhodesia and embargo shipments of oil, arms, aircraft, motor vehicles and parts to the breakaway African colony.

It decided that they "shall prevent" the forbidden transactions "by their nationals or in their territories," notwithstanding prior business contracts to the contrary.

The action was embodied in a British resolution modified by African amendments to include an oil embargo and adopted by a vote of 11 to 0 with four abstentions.

In favor were Britain, the United States, Nationalist China, Argentina, Uruguay, Japan, Jordan, The Netherlands, New Zealand and two of the sponsors of the amendments in a move to bring down Rhodesia's white-minority government. But failure to provide for enforcement machinery immediately raised doubts the boycott would work.

The purpose of the resolution was to end the rebellion against Britain that began when Prime Minister Ian Smith declared Rhodesia independent Nov. 11, 1965, in the face of British pressure for equal votes for Africans. It put mandatory sanctions in place of the voluntary sanctions the council adopted shortly after that event.

Rejecting five of 13 African amendments, the council refused to deplore Portuguese and South African support to the rebel regime, to deplore Britain's refusal to use force against the regime and to invite Britain to use "all means" in preventing oil from reaching Rhodesia.

But through the amendments the council adopted, it bound all members to prevent their nationals, land or air transport facilities or flag vessels from helping supply oil to Rhodesia and it called on all countries to deny Rhodesia economic or financial aid. Finally, it asked UN Secretary-General U Thant to report back by next March on "the progress of the implementation of this resolution."

Quick-Throw Corporal Wins Queen's Award

A fast throw by Cpl. Peter Batiuk, 30, has earned him the Queen's Commendation for Brave Conduct, the defence department announced Friday in Ottawa. A native of Kenora, Ont., stationed at Winnipeg, Cpl. Batiuk was credited with saving two comrades from harm in 1964 by fast handling of a live grenade. The corporal acted quickly when the grenade fell inside a priming bag during training. He grabbed it and tossed it outside.

Solicitor-General Pennell said Friday in Ottawa he hopes to be able to announce Monday whether the government will grant pre-Christmas clemency to a group of British Columbia labor leaders in jail for defying a court injunction.

The body of a 39-year-old Trail area man was discovered beside his flatbed truck at the base of a 220-foot cliff, three miles south of Rossland. RCMP identified the body today as that of Louis Eugene Weeks, who was reported missing about Nov. 19.

Police said they believe that a curve on Highway 22, west around the guard rail and over the steep bank.

Funeral services were held Friday for William George Hassell, founder of one of Vancouver's first commercial radio stations and a nationally known children's program announcer. Mr. Hassell, 75, died Wednesday at his home in the Fraser Valley community of Langley.

Venezuelan President Raul Leoni stepped up Friday the battle against resurgent Communist terror, suspending university autonomy that in the past has kept police and soldiers off campuses.

James Louis, 34, is dead and Albert Jacobson, 29, recovering in hospital after spending three nights clinging to rocks in the icy Pacific Ocean near Alert Bay. Mr. Jacobson's 30-foot gillnetter struck a rock Tuesday and the boat filled with water. The men swam to a higher rock, where they spent Wednesday night. Thursday they swam to another, higher rock, where they were found Friday morning by the dead man's brother, Michael Louis.

John J. Broadbent, 46, who escaped from Mountain Prison, Agassiz during a rainstorm Thursday night, was recaptured Friday a few miles away. He was serving a 10-year term for rape and theft.

Funeral services for Walt Disney were held Friday at Forest Lawn Cemetery. Only the movie producer's family attended. Disney, 65, died Thursday in a hospital across the street from his huge studio.

Prince Charles returned home to London Friday for Christmas holidays with the news that he will be head boy of his school, Gordonstoun. Prince Charles, at 18 one of the oldest boys at Gordonstoun, will take over as captain of the Scottish school when he returns for his last term before going to Cambridge University. His father, Prince Philip, held the post when he was at Gordonstoun.

And in Milwaukee, Wis., Kathleen Theys said her kindergarten class at Washington elementary school was singing Tannenbaum, O Tannenbaum while rehearsing for a Christmas play but a six-year-old boy had his own version which he delivered lustily: "Atomic bomb, O atomic bomb." "And he really thought he was right," Miss Theys said.

The Nose Has It At Coast For Those Drinking Drivers

VANCOUVER (CP)—A special squad of sensitive-nosed policemen is Vancouver's answer to motorists who drink and drive during the Christmas season.

Should a nose thrust unobtrusively in a car window detect the scent of alcoholic cheer, the driver is in for a stiffer examination that could lead to arrest.

Those who pass the sniff test and produce a valid driver's licence and vehicle registration are thanked and sent on their way.

The whole process takes less than two minutes of a driver's time, but police believe it pays off in reducing Christmas-time traffic carnage resulting from alcohol.

The roving unit, sometimes labelled "a wolf-pack of noses" or "the flying squad," checks up to 1,500 vehicles a night in an annual campaign that begins early in December and runs through New Year's Eve.

Police call the campaign applied psychology. "It's been my experience in past years that the sight of one police roadblock examining cars is enough to make drivers think twice about taking a drink," says Cpl. Don Brown, in charge of the nose unit.

He said the squad can set up in 12 locations in one night.

Next year, there likely will be a new factor on the scene that will result in police making fewer impairment arrests but suspending drivers' licences on the spot.

Roadside suspension legislation passed earlier this year but not yet proclaimed was scheduled to be operational in Vancouver and Victoria for this Christmas. But the plan ran into a roadblock in the accuracy of alcohol-testing equipment.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said the breath-type tester proved in RCMP tests to be not accurate for the .08 per cent blood-alcohol ratio in the legislation.

Under the law, police will be able to suspend a driver's licence for 24 hours if they believe the motorist has had enough to drink to reach the .08-per-cent level.

The motorist can wait out the 24 hours to get his licence returned or can take the breath test. If the tester shows the level below .08 per cent his licence is returned immediately.

Should the tester indicate a reading of .15 per cent, the level recognized for impairment, the policeman cannot charge the driver or use the reading as evidence in any subsequent charge.

Mr. Bonner said policemen must decide either to charge the driver with impairment or invoke the new suspension law before the test is taken and that minds cannot be changed once the process is in motion.

Final Weekend Of Season Dead Ahead For Seaway

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—The last few commercial ships plying the Great Lakes headed into the 1966 season's final weekend today.

Behind them were records of achievement, including a good tonnage total, and of trouble and disaster — the freighter Daniel Morrell's sinking as the worst of the latter.

The locks here closed at midnight Tuesday, meaning a halt to all shipping.

At the request of Canadian grain shippers with late season cargoes, the closing was postponed on the St. Marys River, linking Lake Huron and Lake Superior, were to have closed this week.

A coast guard investigation of the Morrell's sinking in a Lake Huron storm with loss of 28 lives Nov. 29 is continuing.

The West German freighter Nordmeer lies on rocks north of Thunder Bay Island in Lake Huron. Off coast, the Nordmeer, with a cargo of steel, ran aground days before the storm.

Then she, too, became a storm victim. The remaining members of her crew, kept aboard for salvage purposes, were taken off by helicopter in the midst of the storm because she had begun breaking up.

Thirteen ships were reported sunk on Lake Superior, down bound with the last cargoes of grain or ore. The ships will travel only in daylight since most navigation aids have been removed.

Lighthouse personnel have been removed from Passage and Manitou islands and Devil's island on Lake Superior. Passage usually is the last to be closed.

Preliminary estimates put the lakes' 1966 tonnage at more than 104,000,000 tons, 8,000,000 more than last year.

New A-Test Seen For China

PARIS (AP) — U.S. officials said Friday night China soon may explode another nuclear device.

American authorities said they also believe that the Chinese by mid-1970s will have developed a long-range missile able to carry nuclear warheads.

These were among the considerations that led State Secretary Dean Rusk to tell the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Thursday that almost all of North America could become a target of a Chinese nuclear attack.

Informants said Rusk left no doubt in the minds of his fellow foreign ministers that, if such an attack is launched, the Americans would invoke the North Atlantic Treaty. This says an unprovoked attack on the territory of any member nation is to be regarded as an attack on all 15.

Poker Players Shot To Death

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Two men playing poker in a residence here were shot to death early today by two masked robbers who got only $4 in table stakes.

Sam Monroe, 21, was shot in the back of the head as he started to get up from the table when the gunmen burst into the room.

The other victim was James Wilbanks, 31, shot in the head three times by one of the gunmen after he grabbed the $4 from the table.

The gunmen wore ski masks and little description of them was obtained.

MOBILITY COUNTS

The psychology of the measure involves the mobility of the unit. It can move to various locations, and does, within minutes, and in no pre-set pattern.

Police Chief Ralph Booth attributes a drop in impaired driving arrests to 34 so far this month compared with 69 in November to the roadblock campaign. "It is quite evident that our roadblock policy has had a deterrent value," he said.

A. H. Rossiter, superintendent and head of the traffic division, is a firm believer in the psychological benefits of the cam-

One Of These Girls Will Be Kelowna's Teen Town Sweetheart

Nine teen-age beauties are competing this year for the title of the Kelowna Teen Town Sweetheart. The Teen Town Sweetheart will be chosen Dec. 29 and will reign over the Snowflake Fantasy ball that night.

This year's sweetheart, Sandi Bearsto, won the Lady-of-the-Lake title during the 1966 Regatta.

A test of speaking ability is included in the judging of the sweetheart. The girls will speak briefly at an afternoon party Dec. 29 at the home of Mrs. Gordon Smith.

A banquet at the Capri Motor Hotel is scheduled for 6 p.m. The Snowflake Fantasy ball follows the dinner.

The girls competing for the title are:

Barbi Elliott, 17, a Grade 11 student at the Kelowna Secondary School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jack Elliott, Lakeshore Road. Barbi is the president of Co-Eds, the captain of the cheerleading squad and a social convener for the school's students council. She is also a member of the Job's Daughters. Barbi's hobbies include water skiing and sewing. She hopes to become an interior decorator.

Gail Gross, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gross, 2595 Pandosy St., is a Grade 11 student at the Kelowna Secondary School.

As well as being an active Teen Town member, Gail serves on the student council and is a Co-Ed member.

She likes to paint, read and write in her spare time. After she finishes secondary school, Gail plans to continue her education at university, studying languages.

Rayne Ward, 17, has light brown hair and hazel-green eyes.

A Grade 12 student at the Kelowna Secondary School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ward, 473 West Ave.

Rayne is a member of the student council and the Annual Club. She is also an alderman on the Teen Town Council.

To be a secretary is Rayne's ambition.

Sixteen-year-old Betty Morton is a Grade 11 student at the Dr. Knox Secondary School.

Curling, skating, skiing, sailing, tennis, art, sewing and school sports are included in her hobbies. She is also a musician and she plays the saxophone.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morton, 1444 Lawrence Ave., Betty plans to become a high school teacher.

Donna Rampone, 16, is another Dr. Knox Secondary School student. Now attending Grade 10 classes, Donna intends to become an airline stewardess.

Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rampone, Spiers Road.

Water skiing, curling and horse back riding are included in her extra curricular activities.

Diane Klassen enjoys sewing, water skiing, swimming and curling.

The 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Klassen, 845 Bay Ave., has brown eyes and blonde hair. She is five feet three inches tall.

Diane is a Grade 12 student at the Kelowna Secondary School. Seventeen-year-old Pat Meikle has blue eyes and blonde hair. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Meikle, 191 Vimy Ave.

A Teen Town council member and the secretary of Co-Eds, Pat is a Grade 12 student at the Kelowna Secondary School.

She enjoys skiing—both water and snow—and is a football cheerleader.

This fall, Pat expects to start education classes at the University of British Columbia. She plans to be a primary school teacher.

Elaine Rathjen, 17, is a petite green-eyed brunette.

A Grade 11 student at the Kelowna Secondary School, Elaine is also studying music. She plans to become a piano instructor and composer.

Designing and sewing her own clothes, writing poetry and folk singing are among her spare time pursuits. She also enjoys all sport, especially swimming and skiing.

Elaine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McGregor Rathjen, 1288 Sutherland Ave.

Carol Fortney, 17, is a Grade 11 at the Kelowna Secondary School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Fortney, Rutland.

She enjoys bowling, skating, and dancing. She also takes an active interest in the girls' softball team at school.

Visiting Nurse Tops Her Class In City Course

Graduation ceremonies were held Friday for 16 students in the practical nursing course at the B.C. Vocational School in Kelowna.

Bertha Jean Allaway of Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, won the award given by the Practical Nurses Association of B.C., for the student with the highest proficiency in bedside nursing.

Graduates were presented by Marcia Aitkens, chief instructor, to Margaret Nelson, nursing instructor for caping. Mrs. Carmel, Chilliwack; Elisabeth David Keir, another member of the staff, presented the pins and R. A. Gibson, vice-principal, presented the diplomas. The address to the graduates was given by Miss Nelson.

The graduating class Friday brought the total number of graduates since the nursing school opened to 102.

Graduates included Loretta Jean White, 369 Broadway Ave., Lois Eileen Caddell, 451 Caddell Ave., and Jooyce Isabel Plett, R.R. 5.

Also Lorraine Catherine Snyder, Vernon and Beverley Allison Browne, Penticton. Others were Wendy Anne Abbott, Westwold; Elsie May Russell, Kamloops; Kathleen MacLean, Port St. John; Marilyn Jane Carmel, Chilliwack; Elisabeth Anne Openshaw, McBride; Lilian Marie Houle, Salmon Arm; Miss Allaway, Sharon Mae Clary, Kamloops; Darlene Rena Blankenship, Merritt; Coleen Beverley Periton, Salmon Arm; and Jooyce Eileen Andrews, Tapscott.

MORE YULE DECORATIONS ON SALE

Kelowna Sea Cadets and Wrennettes were busy selling holly in their neighborhoods today. From the left, Raymond Zahara, Debbie Fletcher and Daryl Schimpf display packages of the Christmas plant which sold for $1. The Cadets and Wrennettes began their Christmas campaign with a Christmas supper and dance at the armoures Friday evening. The holly sale will continue next week.

Vegetable Plant To Get Hearing

Centralization of Okanagan vegetable packing houses is expected to highlight discussions at the annual meeting of the B.C. Interior Vegetable Marketing Board Monday.

The meeting, scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in the B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. board room, may last two days, says marketing board sales manager Sam Scott.

Investigating the possibility of centralization by alternative schemes, including construction of a new packing house was a special committee.

The committee report was released this fall and also outlined other schemes, such as leasing a portion of an existing plant or selection of north and south plants to centralize handling of vegetables in their districts.

There are now more than a dozen vegetable packing houses in the Valley.

Those in favor of consolidation say centralization would encourage uniform grading and better quality vegetable packing. Growers from some 20 areas of the B.C. Interior will attend the meeting. About 750 growers are represented by the board.

Among other business will be election of officers for the coming year.

NEW HOPE FOR COLLEGE

In the Dec. 10 voting, a heavy vote against the college referendum was recorded in Vernon where campaigns had been launched against several proposals made in establishing the college.

One of the proposals objected to in Vernon was that which would result in an Okanagan Regional College without the participation of the Penticton school district.

However, further indication that a second referendum could be presented and would include Penticton was obtained today when Mayor R. F. Parkinson announced the mayors of the three cities had met Friday.

He said phone conversations with the education minister were held during the meeting and confirmed that he, Mayor Lionel Mercier of Vernon and Mayor Maurice Finnelly would travel to Victoria.

Mr. Parkinson said the meeting with Mr. Peterson would be held next Tuesday.

Mild . . .

The sun is expected to peek through the clouds briefly Sunday, according to the weatherman.

However, mostly cloudy weather was forecast for tonight and late Sunday, although there was no prediction of rain.

The weatherman said continuing mild weather will prevail with a low tonight and high Sunday of 38 and 48.

Whites Spend More On Medicine In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—White persons spend about twice as much for medicines as non-whites, the U.S. public health service reported Saturday.

The service said a nationwide sampling of household interviews showed that white persons spent an average of $22.20 for medicines in the year ended June 30, 1965. Non-whites spent an average of $12.

Most Roads Remain Clear

British Columbia highways were generally clear of snow and ice today but rain in some areas was causing slippery sections.

The Fraser Canyon highway was reported bare but motorists were warned to watch for rolling rock. At Sicamous roads were also bare, with foggy patches reported this morning.

Slippery sections and one-half inch of new snow was reported on the Rogers Pass while the Hope - Princeton was mostly bare, but motorists were warned about slippery sections.

In the Okanagan, Highway 97 was bare and wet in most places while compact snow was reported on higher levels of the Beaverdell to Kelowna highway.

SUN-RYPE ISSUE

'Secret Agent' Out Of Local 181

A former employee of Sun-Rype Ltd. in Kelowna—called a "secret agent" by Teamsters Local 181—has been expelled from the union.

An internal union trial was held this week, comprised of the seven-man executive board of the union in Kelowna.

Last week, Kelowna and regional Teamster officials said they had evidence the former member had been secretly working against Teamsters, while acting for them as a shop steward at the Kelowna plant.

Teamsters accuse the Brew-nocent dupes of a man they trusted.

This week's union trial saw charges against the man upheld, and his expulsion from the union becomes final.

Meanwhile, Teamsters have prepared a brief for presentation at a Labor Relations Board hearing Wednesday in Vancouver, where an application for Teamster decertification will be heard.

The Brewery Union, vying for the right to represent the plant workers, is also expected to submit a brief.

City Man Injured

An elderly Kelowna citizen, struck by a car while crossing the street in a crosswalk Friday was in satisfactory condition in hospital this morning.

Ivan Kropelnisky was believed to have suffered a broken pelvis in the accident which occurred about 2 p.m. at the corner of Harvey Avenue and Glenmore Road.

Police said the driver of the vehicle involved in the accident was a juvenile.

Early this morning, a total of $1,500 damage was caused when two cars were in collision at the corner of Harvey Avenue and Ellis Street.

No serious injuries were believed to have been suffered by the occupants of the two cars, Ray Swift and John Fitzpatrick.

Both accidents were being investigated by police.

CHAMBER BRIEFS

Coast Bylaw Is Studied In Facia Sign Matter

R. P. McLennan said the facia sign bylaw from West Vancouver has been forwarded to Basil Meikle for study. The bylaw allows for some signs to protrude out over the streets.

Mr. Meikle is the chamber's representative on the city-chamber facia sign committee. The city is pressing for a bylaw to make facia signs obligatory in Kelowna and the chamber is opposed. Facia signs are those erected flush with the building.

T. D. Seafie said in his report of the Christmas Jamboree that he would strongly recommend the dinner-dance be held on a night other than the civic election date. A vote of thanks was given Mr. Seafie as organizer for making the jamboree such a success. Thanks were also tendered to Ronald Alexander for the work he did in getting out such a large vote for the college referendum. Thank-you letters will go out to all the 14 organizations which assisted him.

L. R. Stephens, chairman of the agriculture committee, said 4-H club members appreciated the yearly banquet sponsored by the chamber. Mr. Bennett said he was impressed by the candle-light ceremony at the banquet last week. A total of 126 4-H Club members and guests attended.

The successful aldermen in the Dec. 10 election were congratulated by W. R. Bennett, president, at an executive meeting of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce Thursday. He said he hoped there would be continued co-operation between the city council and the chamber.

Ald. R. J. Wilkinson said the mayor has referred to the chamber as "the council's right hand."

T. L. Mooney said the temperature in the arena was uncomfortable during the Soviet Christmas music played by the school band, under the direction of Miss Sigrid-Ann Thora.

Winfield Sets Yule Program

A story by Count Leo Tolstoy, author of War and Peace, will form part of the George Elliot Secondary School Christmas presentation this year.

Wednesday, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium at Winfield, students will perform Tolstoy's Where Love Is, God Is, adapted for stage by their teacher, Ted Black.

The program will also include Christmas music played by the school band, under the direction of Miss Sigrid-Ann Thora.

AMATEUR RADIO OPERATORS

Small Group 'On The Air' There If Required

By TERRY STEWARD

Kelowna, like most North American communities, will probably never be completely cut off from the remaining world through lack of communications.

One of the main reasons for this are the amateur radio men, more popularly known as hams.

Communication is the hobby of hams, a hobby that is at once both technical and strictly governed through their own and federal regulations.

In the Kelowna area, more than 20 hams are banded together in the Orchard City Amateur Radio Club.

They are men with tested ability and know-how and a yen for experimentation in radio transmission and control.

The Kelowna group is headed by president Fred Bunce.

Hams best justify their existence with the public service they render. On many occasions, it is more convenient to pass along a personal message using the continental amateur radio service network than through commercial communications.

Some time hams provide the only means of communication and several times in the history of the Kelowna club it has been called into official action.

One such time was during a "silver thaw" in the 1930s when telephone lines were down and the amateur radio service was used to handle all railway communications and urgent Kelowna messages.

The club was also used in the floods of 1948, when a serum necessary to the life of a child was solicited through amateur radio because no other means of communication was possible.

At that time the club was a member of the communications arm of the Canadian Red Cross. This was changed about 1952, when amateur operators in Kelowna were appointed the communications branch of the civil defense.

About eight or nine Kelowna hams are currently active in the branch and hold two exercises each year.

One such ham is Jack Bews, who is the amateur radio club's emergency co-ordinator and, in the true tradition of all hams everywhere, he loves it.

He describes amateur radio operators as "technical men who must study and be dedicated to their hobby to qualify for their federal licences."

Varying degrees of federal licences are issued upon completion of exams.

Amateur radio service operators are not to be confused with general radio service operators or Cee Bees, who operate with mobile radios on designated citizens bands.

TWO GROUPS

The Cee Bees are equally proud of their organization and the pride of both groups is always hurt when reports fail to distinguish between the two, when crediting a non-commercial radio operator with a public service.

Mr. Bews said many times hams are getting credit for the community service provided by the Cee Bees. "However, our function and scope of operation is different and there is no conflict among us."

Appointed emergency communications co-ordinator for the Okanagan-Mainline, Mr. Bews described the federal licences of hams as being experimental radio licences.

He said radio is the basis of much of the electronics and part of the hams' hobby is to experiment, particularly with radio-control.

Some, he said, develop radio-controlled model airplanes or boats.

As for the routine activities of the hams, the American Radio Relay League network provides a lot of the action.

In effect, operators throughout the continent are affiliated under the network and the B.C. division is on the air between 6 and 7 p.m. every week night.

During this time, roll call is taken in four sections of the province and amateurs receive relay instructions for any messages they might have to send.

Between 50-100 messages are moved from this area monthly.

None of these messages can be of a commercial nature and a ham cannot take payment for his transmission of a message.

The history of amateur radio dates back many years and includes the establishment of 10AY, Kelowna's first radio station and forerunner of the present commercial station.

Responsible for 10AY was George Dunn, long-time Kelowna resident and former city clerk, who operated with church services and music until a commercial licence was obtained in 1931.

Mr. Dunn is now the oldest member of the Kelowna hams.

Hams, themselves, are as old as radio and can claim responsibility for its development.

Hams, at times seem to have a language all their own, and indeed, this is true.

For all hams in B.C. there are "roll letters" or identification, starting with VE7. For example a ham may have a "call" of VE7ASY, or VE7BCG. And when they get together they will refer to each other as TASY, or BCG.

When they are "on the air" their hobby becomes serious business, but in emergencies they are well-prepared to assist wherever necessary.

They are few and they stay behind the scenes, but someday your well-being may depend on their "hobby" and their ability to communicate with the outside world.

ON THE CORNER...

There is a certain constable at the police station in Kelowna whose face is a bit red—A man failed to appear in magistrate's court to hear a charge read against him and the constable said he would conduct an investigation into the matter. The missing man was found in the police cell!

"Since it is now 3:15 a.m. and fast reaching 4 a.m., I'll call this meeting to order," Victor Haddad, chairman of the Kelowna General Hospital board of trustees, said Thursday night. Mr. Haddad was right. By the time he had finished his opening sentence the hands of the board room clock had reached 4 a.m.

The board room's clock was out of kilter and the large hands raced around the dial as the second hand usually does. "Too bad we weren't paid by the hour," another board member said as he watched the hours fly by.

One Kelowna man, finding he must go to Vernon this week, and recognizing the togetherness between the two cities at the moment, had a car sticker printed. The sticker read: "I'm from Penticton."

The British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association has announced the dates for its annual convention. The 78th annual BCFGA convention will be held at the Kelowna Aquatic Jan. 17 to 19.

Magistrate D. M. White has a few pet dislikes when it comes to correct etiquette in a court room. He is annoyed with people who sit down in the witness box without permission, put their hands in their pockets or slouch all over the box. Anyone trying to make a good impression, night take note.

Most people don't know there are two Bibles used in magistrate's court in Kelowna, the Douay (Roman Catholic) version and the King James (Protestant) version. Which one might be picked up by a witness who is required to take an oath before testifying, depends on whether he is right or left-handed. No mention is ever made of which is which (the thicker Bible is the Catholic one).

All World Wants Peace More Than Anything Else

"On earth, peace," the angels sang. Once again, at another Christmas season, the story will be told and retold as if it were a beautiful legend out of the distant past. The words of the angels will be repeated, even in radio and television commercials, as if "peace on earth" were a wishful hope as far removed from reality as we are from the angels.

People want peace. They want it more than anything else in the world. And that is taking in a lot of territory.

When people want peace so passionately, so desperately, it is evident that struggle and strife hang over their lives like a radioactive cloud, threatening to pour down its deadly rain. Turbulence and trouble are their meat and drink, and thoughts of evil rather than peace go to bed with them at night and get up with them again in the morning. And yet the angels spoke clearly of peace. The First World War was to be the "war to end all wars." It did nothing of the kind. The Second World War accomplished no more, and possibly less. If major war comes again, as well it might, peace will be farther away than ever, a dream rendered all but hopelessly by rockets, bombs and radioactive fallout.

In the face of all this, what are we to believe concerning the angels' message that night to the shepherds of Bethlehem? "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Is Bethlehem the setting for just another fairy tale, the time-honored myth of what might have been? Are men right in their gently sardonic intimation that harsh realities have again given the lie to some sentimental angels, the spokesmen for the hopes of mankind?

"No," is the answer of Christian faith to the dismal depression of a world disposed to write off the angels' "Peace on earth" as a mere pipedream.

Our world cannot find the pathway to peace because it is looking for the wrong thing in the wrong place. It seeks a purely superficial peace, a cessation of armed hostilities. This it can never find because it fails to get at the root of enmity and the strife which results from it.

To a world of war and rumors of war, to a world where people are in conflict with one another and at war with themselves, there comes even now the angels' message of peace—not as a forlorn hope but as present reality. The angels tell us there is peace in Christ. It is more than peace of mind or of heart; it is the very peace of God that passes all understanding. It is peace with God and peace from God, setting right what is wrong within each of us.—Rev. J. Schroeder, Minister, Alliance Church.

The Good Old Days

Those who like to recall the good old days will be set back soundly by a recent statistical report on household facilities and equipment produced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

This year Canada has 4,938,000 households; at the time of the 1951 census the total was 3,338,000. Fifteen years ago only 48.9 per cent of all households had central heating, compared to 76 per cent in 1966. Further, most furnaces today are automatic; only 2.1 per cent burn wood and 3.7 per cent coal, whereas 24.2 per cent use gas as their fuel and 45.8 per cent oil. For cooking equipment, 84.7 per cent of all homes now have a gas or electric range, compared to 50.8 per cent in 1951. And still in the kitchen, in the earlier year only 47.6 per cent of all households had gas or electric refrigeration, compared to 80.2 per cent today.

Also, in the transportation and communications field, in 1951 only 60.3 per cent of households had telephones compared to 90.4 per cent today; this year, 75.1 per cent of households are equipped with automobiles, but only 43 per cent had cars in 1951.

The affluency of the country in general is further highlighted in the list of items omitted earlier but now in common usage. In 1966, 14.1 per cent of all households have two or more automobiles, 39 per cent have powered lawn mowers, nine per cent have outboard motors, 61.2 per cent have record players, 54.2 per cent have electrical floor polishers, 24.1 per cent have home freezers, and 30.1 per cent have gas or electric clothes dryers.

Last Day Gag

In Federal and provincial elections, candidates and groups taking sides on various issues may legally advertise up to the last opportunity to influence voters, except as barred on radio and television by broadcasting regulations. But in B.C. municipal voting, the Municipal Act prohibits advertising "in any way concerning or having reference to" the elections not only on polling day, but on the preceding day too.

Two theories are supposed to be behind this ban.

One is that forbidding advertising on the day before the election lessens the advantage of the candidate with a lot of money. In fact, though, the difference between a big drive and a small one is not apt to slip the voter's mind in a day's hiatus; nor does the gap alter the candidates' campaign budgets, each still spending what he thinks he can afford to spend, but a day sooner.

The second theory is that the ban is protection of some kind against roobacks—derogatory statements made too late to be answered before the voting begins. But of course it merely advances the deadline for political tactics of this kind.

There is no great harm, perhaps, in the municipal election law being different from the federal and provincial requirements in this respect. But uniformity would be less confusing and more convenient. And if last-day advertising would maintain interest and help even slightly to increase the voter turnout, usually deplorably smaller in municipal elections than in the choice of MPs and MLAs, certainly the change would be worth while.

The larger part of the tract will be put under irrigation and offered for sale. Dry Valley embraces a tract of splendid soil but its development has been hitherto retarded by the lack of a supply of water.

"I MAY HAVE PAINTED A TOO GLOWING PICTURE"

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

This Is Ugly For Young Girl

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner:

I am 11 and full of black and blues, and this is ugly for a girl. At the slightest bump I get deep purple bruises. Is there a reason for this?—S.R.V.

Of course there's a reason. The question is WHICH reason. A bruise is bleeding underneath the skin—we have a vast network of capillaries, or very tiny blood vessels. A bump hard enough to break some of them lets a little blood leak from them, and that is the black and blue mark.

Sometimes a person has unusually fragile capillaries, gets a black and blue spot from a bump that wouldn't bother someone else.

Or the blood may not have enough particles called platelets, which are important in causing it to clot when a vessel is broken. Therefore such a person bleeds longer and the black and blue spot is bigger. He or she will also bleed more from a cut. A special study of the blood is necessary to see if this is the situation.

Calcium is also essential in healing these small breaks (or big ones, of course). Milk has a lot of calcium, and most youngsters drink plenty of it. Among older folks, bruising is excessive sometimes because they don't get enough calcium.

Finally, Vitamin C (from tomato juice or orange or other citrus fruits) has a good deal to do with the strength of the capillaries, so if you aren't getting enough of it, you will be better off by drinking some juice every day.

Your parents should have your bruising checked by the doctor; it may not be serious and if the exact cause can be diagnosed, there is excellent chance of correcting it.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a girl of 11. My mother makes me go to bed at 9 p.m. and then complains when I wake up at 7:15 in the morning. She says that is too early. I have tried to reason with her but she just says, "I know what's best." Don't you think she's wrong?—S.M.

I don't like to say that mother is wrong. Growing girls need sleep, and I'm not at all pleased with the way some youngsters are allowed to stay up much too late.

However, 10 hours (from 9 p.m. to 7 a.m.) is a reasonable amount for a girl of your age, and I do wish your mother would agree that so long as you go to bed at a reasonable time, you should be allowed to get up when you've had your sleep. When people wake up, they wake up.

Dear Dr. Molner: I acquired the strange and terrible habit of pulling my eyelashes out by the roots. I have finally licked the habit but my eyes now look flimsy and very weird. Will they ever grow back?—MISS K.

Yes, they should grow back, but it will take some time. Lashes grow very slowly.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 12 and have a pot belly. When I am older will this still be there? I am five feet two.—S.T.

It's not unusual for kids your age to be a bit "potty" and thin out as you go into a growing spurt, but I can't say whether that will happen in your case because I don't know how much you weigh or whether you get plenty of exercise.

If you are overweight, then you'll probably keep that pot belly until you start gradually getting your weight under control. Fat youngsters don't automatically turn into slim people. They stay fat—unless they start exercising more and eating less.

Born Chiseller Likes His Name

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP)—Friends call Len R. Weare a born chiseller. And it's a description he likes.

Mr. Weare's hobby is carving. Wood, marble, soapstone or sandstone soon become intricate carvings under his chisel, diamond-toothed saw and file.

But after five years at the hobby, Mr. Weare now also takes occasionally to more serious subjects. He is currently carving a bust of John F. Kennedy.

Mr. Weare has a philosophy about carving:

"I just go at it when I feel like it. After all, it is a hobby, and when you feel like picking up your tools, then you relax at the work and get the greatest enjoyment out of it."

LETTERS TO EDITOR

HOW ABOUT SWITCH?

Sir: Now that C. E. (Bud) Kelly, a Vernon lawyer, has been successful in spearheading Vernon's efforts to defeat the college referendum, do you suppose he might put his tremendous powers of persuasion to work for a college, located in Vernon? I, for one, would support him as I want a college. It could be anywhere in the Okanagan as far as I am concerned.

Let's get a college! If not in Kelowna, then in Vernon, or to be ridiculous, since the site is a sore point, on a floating barge on the Okanagan Lake (exactly midway of course!).

My children have no immediate need of a college and won't for quite a few years either. I might add. Another thing they may not ever qualify and if they do, they may not want to go, but I know of many young people that should have a college made available to them.

It was for these children that I supported the referendum. I sincerely hope that Mr. Kelly can be persuaded to "fight just as hard" for a college in Vernon or elsewhere as he has fought against the college in Kelowna.

Yours truly,
(Mrs. H.) VERA GREENOUGH
1850 Bernard Ave.

College IS Needed

Sir: As an educator of young people I feel impelled to convey my great regret that the thinking of some people of our beautiful Okanagan Valley has frustrated the attempt to establish a regional college in our area.

A great amount of objective research and thinking has gone into the question of the location of the college by qualified people who do not live in this Valley and therefore are outside of our pale of prejudice. It is unfortunate that their research has not been accepted in some quarters.

The ones who will suffer from the lack of a regional college are the young people with whom we educators are working in our high schools and elementary schools today.

Mr. Norman Walker has demonstrated a capacity to give our college the open, honest and dynamic leadership which it needs. I do hope that educational leaders and other community figures throughout our Valley will give Mr. Walker the mandate which he richly deserves in spite of the recent setback the Okanagan Regional College has suffered.

We all need the Okanagan Regional College.

Yours sincerely,

LOOKING BACK WITH OLD STAGER

Scot Hopeful For Benvoulin

By ART GRAY

Prior to the surveying and registration of the plan of subdivision of the new lakeside township of Kelowna by Bernard Lequime, a Scotsman by the name of George Grant MacKay had a township surveyed a mile or so north of Lequime's Okanagan Mission store.

He called it "Benvoulin" after a locality in his native land, and he had great hopes that the new railway from Sicamous to Vernon would be soon extended there, on its way to the mining towns of Greenwood and Grand Forks.

MacKay made his headquarters in the booming little town of Vernon, and one of his biggest deals had been the sale of the Coldstream Ranch to Lord Aberdeen, soon to be the governor-general. MacKay had acquired large farms in the Okanagan Mission area and was subdividing them into small holdings. The same spring that Lequime was advertising his new township in the Vernon News, MacKay's activities in the Mission were being chronicled in the Vernon News.

The issue of April 7, 1892 tells us that "Messrs. Crowell and Holland have received from G. MacKay the contract to build the Benvoulin Hotel, situated at the crossroads. It will be a pretty, two-and-a-half storey rustic-looking structure somewhat in the Elizabethan style, and will cost $5,000. The contractors will commence work at once and expect to finish by June."

DOLLAR'S POWER

The thought of setting out to build a hotel of any kind for $5,000 will give an idea of the buying power of a dollar in those days! This project got under way about a month before Archie MacDonald started his Lakeview hotel in Kelowna township.

The Vernon News items from frequent references to arrivals in the district, which pin point the dates upon which many pioneers arrived here.

The same issue of April 7, 1892 tells of the Mr. G. R. Thomson, who recently purchased some acre property adjoining Mr. Munson's, bringing with him Mrs. Thomson and family, arrived by Friday's train. They will live in the house on the Alphonse Lefevre property bought by Mr. MacKay until he (Mr. Thomson) builds. He will plant a considerable orchard this spring."

The issue of April 14 states that "Herbert Lysons arrived from the coast and is at the Coldstream Hotel. He intends residing at Okanagan Mission."

In the Town and District columns it states that "The many friends of Mr. Alex McLennan, formerly of Trout Creek, were pleased to see him return to the district by Tuesday's train, accompanied by Mrs. McLennan, formerly Miss Christie Murray of Marston, Que., and his brother John McLennan. They will reside on the property bought by him at the sale of the Smithson estate." A subsequent report of May 2 tells us that Alex McLennan took up a pre-emption directly across the lake from Lequime's sawmill, and his brother John took up a claim adjoining him.

Alex McLennan raised a fine orchard on his westside property, and in later years was a prominent exhibitor at the New Westminster Fair. He also was, or developed into, quite a radical, chairing Socialist meetings and advocating votes for women and other such advanced notions.

A hunting note, in the Vernon News of May 2, 1892, may interest some. The Okanagan Mission reporter states that "Four caribou were seen on the mountains three miles from the Mission last Sunday, one of them having tremendous antlers. It is 20 years since caribou have been seen so close to the Valley. At that time J. B. Moore, our veteran hunter, trapper and miner, secured a splendid head."

Speaking of mining, the News of May 12, 1892 states that "Between 50 and 60 Chinamen are at work on the diggings about nine miles up Mission Creek. They say they are not taking out much, but outward conditions point to the contrary."

The same issue has an advertisement by F. Brent, J.P., listing "Wheat Land"—clay loam, for sale in quantities to suit purchaser. Price $10 per acre. Also pastoral land, fenced and watered, $5 per acre. Good stream of water through premises." The advert also carried a facsimile of two gold medals awarded at the Antwerp Exposition in 1883 for wheat grown there. The ad concluded "Also Grist Mill in good order."

Another advertisement was by C. W. Holliday—Portland and scenic photographs. Enderby, B.C. This was inserted by the author of the Valley of Youth, a story of the early days in the Okanagan Valley.

NEW ARRIVALS

The issue of June 9 that year tells of "Mr. and Mrs. J. Conroy and Miss O'Reilly arriving from the East by Friday's train, and proceeding to their home at the Mission the following day." The July 7 issue reports the Dominion Day sports in which Vernon defeated Enderby 33 runs to 9. Playing shortstop for Vernon was Dan Gallagher, who also won a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match against Frank Britton of Vancouver for a $50 purse, winning two falls out of three in less than six minutes. Dan was a resident of Vernon then, and ran the Palace Livery barn. A report in the News around that same date tells us that "The Bethel Presbyterian Church at Mission Valley is well under way. Mr. Raymer, the successful bidder, has several carpenters at work. The contract price is $1,575, not including seating and heating."

A later issue reports that "Rev. Dr. Somerville of Glasgow, Scotland, dedicated the new Presbyterian Church Sunday, Sept. 11, and on the Monday following gave an amusing lecture in the men's house, Leisachan, on Ministers, Bishops and Preachers in 'Both Worlds', which no doubt proved highly entertaining. A July item advised that "the Benvoulin Hotel is completed and is to let."

On August 18, 1892 we learn that "G. G. MacKay has sold the Benvoulin Hotel to Mr. Dan Nicholson, who will no doubt make it a success." The August 25 issue states that the price was $44,000, and that a free stage will meet the boat regularly. Also that "D. Nicholson has entered into partnership with F. Bouvette in his stage line between Vernon and the Mission."

Next week: "The Christmas Scene 60 Years Ago."

CANADA'S STORY

Members Assured God's Bilingual

By BOB BOWMAN

When the Canada Act (sometimes called Constitutional Act) came into effect in 1791 it created the provinces of Upper and Lower Canada each with its own legislature, and system of laws. Most of the people in Upper Canada were accustomed to elections, having come from Britain, or the U.S.A. as United Empire Loyalists. The predominantly French people in Lower Canada had never taken part in elections, except in the parishes where they elected their church wardens.

Nevertheless the French-speaking Canadians returned one of the strongest assemblies in the history of Lower Canada in their first election. Even the "habitants" voted because they were landowners. Many of them were illiterate, but they were really excited about their first campaign. There was no problem of getting people to turn out to vote!

The first legislature of Lower Canada opened on Dec. 17, 1792 and had 50 elected members representing 100,000 people. They included merchants, lawyers and seigneurs. Montreal with a population of 18,000 and Quebec with 14,000 had four members each.

The first question that had to be decided was whether the proceedings should be in English or in French. One of the French members, M. Parerit, said that since they lived under the best of kings, gratitude and courtesy required that they should speak in English.

However, as few of the members understood English, it was decided that both languages could be used. The opening prayer would be in French one day, and English the next. The members were assured that God understood both languages.

OTHER EVENTS ON DECEMBER 17:

- 1640 Company of 100 Associates ceded Montreal to Society of Notre Dame.
- 1761 Louis XV ordered former Intendant Bigot and his associates to be tried for abuses in Canada.
- 1839 The first passenger train crossed Victoria Bridge, Montreal.
- 1866 The Petrolia branch of the Great Western Railway was opened.
- 1867 The legislature of British Columbia met for the first time at Victoria.
- 1881 Conservative convention at Toronto resulted in John A. Macdonald's "National Policy."
- 1891 The Canadian Bankers Association was organized at Montreal.
- 1902 The first official wireless messages were sent across the Atlantic.
- 1914 King George V and Lord Kitchener inspected Canadian Division in Britain.
- 1917 Sir Robert Borden's Union government won a general election.
- 1924 Legislature of British Columbia opposed further immigration of orientals to Canada.
- 1929 Vancouver unemployed raided the city relief office.
- 1939 Canada, Britain, Australia and New Zealand signed the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan at Ottawa.

TO PERFORM THE 'MESSIAH'

The 36-voice choir of the Mennonite Brethren Bible Institute of Clearbrook will perform the "Messiah" under the able direction of Helmut Janzen, at the Kelowna Community Theatre on Monday, Dec. 19 at 7:45 p.m. The choir is accompanied by two pianists on a tour of British Columbia and will travel as far as Prince George, but Monday's performance is the only appearance scheduled for them in the Valley. Everyone is welcome to attend.

DOLLS TO WARM THE CHILDREN'S HEARTS

Could Mrs. Helen Mildenberger be one of Mr. Claus's relatives? Many little children's hearts will be warmed when they receive one of these beautiful dolls on Christmas day. Mrs. Mildenberger has dressed some 75 crippled dolls who have been cured by Kelowna's Volunteer Fire Department this year and you can see in the above picture how lovely and healthy they look in their new clothes as they await collection by the firemen who will distribute them to underprivileged children in time for Christmas. Mrs. Mildenberger also dresses dolls for the Salvation Army to distribute throughout the year and makes pretty quilts and quilts. If she is not a relation of Santa we think he'd best adopt her right away.

AROUND TOWN

The combined Lions clubs of Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon held their annual Christmas dinner party for the members of the Okanagan Blind Association on Monday evening in the Kelowna Anglican Church hall, when approximately 100 members and their guests sat down to a delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings, including Christmas cake.

Each member received a box of chocolates from the Lions, and retiring field secretary Clarence Hembling was presented with a gift on behalf of all the members of the Valley. Following his speech of thanks Mr. Hembling introduced Mr. Johnson the new field secretary.

At the conclusion of the speeches Mrs. S. Perry and her Happy Arts Choir accompanied on the piano by Mrs. D. Miller sang many beautiful numbers and solos and Mrs. Miller added to the enjoyment of the evening by rendering a solo on the piano which was greatly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Johnson arrived home this week from an extended visit to Edmonton where they visited relatives and attended the wedding of their son, as well as visiting another son who is still in hospital due to a recent accident.

Four new Brownies were enrolled in the Second Okanagan Mission Pack on Thursday, December 8 at the Dorothea Walker School, Penticton. The new recruits were Jean Denny, Stacey Dedinsky, L. Ann Matoklich, and Cal Scatle. Officiating were Friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Burnmeister are invited to an "Open House" to be held in their home at 416 Groves Ave., on Monday, Dec. 19, between the hours of 3 and 9 p.m., the occasion being their 50th wedding anniversary. Co-hosts of the happy occasion will be Mrs. T. B. Gummo of Calgary, Mrs. M. E. Peterson of Dawson Creek and Roy Burmaster of Winnipeg.

The Jean Vipond pre-Christmas party was held in the Institute Hall last Wednesday and was enjoyed by some 60 members who danced to modern and Latin American music. Later in the evening delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The lounge of Still Waters Private Hospital was the scene of a delightful Christmas dinner party, Wednesday evening last, when Mrs. Adele Komrowski and her son David were hosts to their staff at a full course dinner prepared by this hospital's dietitian, Mrs. Verna Osborne and her staff. Between 40 and 50 members sat down to the tables, which were laden with novel and delicious Christmas fare. Following the dinner, games were played and a humorous skit was performed. Later, carols were sung accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert Rempel at the Electrophone Organ, and Messrs. Waldemar and Gilbert Rempel playing trumpets. Superintendent of nurses, Mrs. Herta Cernak made a presentation of gifts to the host and hostess. This was followed by gifts to the staff by the proprietress, Miss organ music brought a most successful evening to a close.

Sunnyvale Workshop Girls' Choir Enjoys Trip to Vernon

The Girls' Choir and staff members of the Sunnyvale Workshop Training Centre travelled to Vernon Wednesday evening to present a musical treat to the interested people gathered at "My School." The choir consists of 11 girls who have spent many lunch hours over the past months in order to learn to function as a singing group and under the direction of Mrs. P. M. Trenwith they presented a varied program of folk songs, traditional tunes and the ever popular sacred songs. Delicious refreshments were served to complete a most enjoyable evening.

Winner of the Christmas cake at the Sunnyvale Workshop bake sale last Saturday was Mrs. Eileen Carlson, 515 Harvey Avenue and Sunnyvale would like to thank all those who helped to make the affair a success.

Farrow Jellett-Wedding Takes Place In Calgary

White chrysanthemums and pink carnations graced the altar of St. Stephens Church in Calgary, and white satin bows marked the pews at noon on Nov. 19, when Joan Morgan Jellett of Calgary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewen Macnider of Kelowna, became the bride of Robert Adair Farrow, son of Noel Adair Farrow and the late Mrs. Farrow of Calgary. Rev. F. W. Pierce officiated at the pretty double-ring ceremony.

The lovely bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length wedding gown of white, silk faced faille, fashioned on princess lines. The high waistline was emphasized with appliques of heavy white lace, matching the long lily-point panels. Their wedding band lace sleeves, and the heavy folds of the skirt formed a bustle effect falling into a slight train at back. A headdress of the same heavy lace held in place her four layered shoulder length veil of scalloped net, worn over the face on entering the church, and she wore the bridegroom's gift of a strand of pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias intermingled with stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Dobbie of Staveley, Alta., the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid Miss Dorothy Sandison of Westlock, Alta., were charming in Empire styled dresses of jade chiffon over Lake Louise blue taffeta, featuring floating chiffon band and floating panels. Their wedding head pieces were trimmed with circular veils in the same shade, and they wore matching shoes and carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

Acting as best man was Jack Pentland of Calgary, and ushering the guests to their pews was Olish Petrowski of Calgary. At the wedding reception held at the Calgary Golf and Country Club, the mother of the bride received wearing a two-piece dress of mushroom brocade, a cuffed cloche hat of soft brown and rose feathers, and brown kid gloves and shoes complimented with a corsage of sweetheart roses in a corresponding shade of rose. She was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Evelyn Badger, aunt of the groom, who wore a smart two-piece dress of black and white silk crepe and a black hat faced with white. Her accessories were black, and she wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The toast to the bride, proposed by A. Wiltz, was ably responded to by the groom, and the best man gave the toast to the bridesmaids.

Nestling in white tulle scattered with pink carnations on the bride's table was a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, iced in pink and white and topped with lilies of the valley and wedding bells.

To travel on her honeymoon to California, the bride changed to a dress and cape ensemble of golden brown tweed with a matching hat, and she wore brown kid accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrow will reside at Apt. 2, 616-13th Ave. S.W., Calgary, Alta.

Dear Ann: I stood up and cheered when I read your advice to the "Interested Friend" who wanted to wise up a neighbor about her husband's extracurricular activities. She may be "Interested" but she is no friend.

I had "Interested Friends," too. I also had a husband with a great many qualities, but unfortunately he had a weakness for pretty girls. Every so often he just had to go off and sow a few oats. We were married six years when I first learned what was going on, but by then we had three children and I wasn't about to throw out the babies with the bath water.

Next month we will celebrate our silver wedding anniversary. My husband still strays every once in a while but there are so many rewarding and wonderful aspects of our marriage I'd be crazy to throw him out.

North Van Club Came To Town And Went Away Feeling Crushed

North Vancouver Juniors came to town Friday evening with 10 hockey players. The purpose of the visit was an interlocking Okanagan Mainline Junior Hockey League and Coast Junior League game. When the sounds of battle ceased in the Kelowna Memorial arena, the visitors were minus three players and had suffered a 5-2 trouncing.

Average hundred and ninety fans watched the Buckaroos' production line made up of Brian Fisher, John Strong and Butch Deadmarsh tally 21 points on eight goals and 13 assists. John Strong and Butch Deadmarsh turned in identical records for the evening. Three goals and five assists apiece.

Following the game, a worried North Vancouver team sat in the dressing room. With two players with minor injuries, a bruised leg, and a sore jaw, and one man in a state of semi-consciousness, the visitors had reason to worry.

Dave Haley issued a check at

JOHN STRONG

the North Vancouver blue line to Dave McInnis who tried to come out with his head down.

Haley knocked him down and McInnis stayed down.

The game was a huddle scramble contest with the visitors not being able to put any punch in their offence. The Buckaroos played a similar style of pond hockey, but managed to come up with the lion's share of the 17 goals scored.

Deadmarsh rapped in two goals before the one minute mark of the first period, one at 34 seconds and the other at 52 seconds.

Brian Fisher scored twice for the winners. Buckaroo singles came from Garnet Howard, Bob Schmidt, Dave Haley, Dave Cousins, Terry Strong, Keith Boquist, and Drew Kitch. Rex Rideout permitted the visiting crew to tally two of the easiest goals of the night. Scoring for North Vancouver were George Croteau, and Richard Brost.

The Buckaroos outshot North Vancouver 44-25. Seven penalties were called by referee Brian Roche. Four to the Bucks and three to North Vancouver.

Two fighting majors, Cousins and Brost, and one 10 minute misconduct to Bill Powell were included.

The visiting team is scheduled to meet the Penticton Broncos this evening in Penticton. Doubts were expressed by a North Vancouver team spokesman as to whether the visitors could ice a team.

Kelowna Buckaroos travel to Kamloops this evening to tangle with the cellar dwelling Kamloops Kraft Kings. Game time in Kamloops and Penticton, 8:30.

Still A Tiger In His Tank...

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger, who appeared all washed up eight months ago, today has a fresh career ahead of him as light heavyweight champion of the world at age 37.

The first fighting business ahead for the former middleweight king from Nigeria probably will be a return bout with Jose Torres, the 30-year-old New Yorker he dethroned Friday night on a unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden.

With the victory, Tiger became the first former middleweight champion to win the light heavyweight crown in 63 years. Bob Fitzsimmons did it first in 1903.

"I'll fight anybody," the jubilant Tiger said after the fight.

"Return with Torres? Why not," said Lou Burston, one of Tiger's American handlers. "This time we'll get the big money."

"I'd like to fight him again," said Torres, "but it's up to him."

Torres, who had predicted he would win every round and then knock out Tiger, said: "I thought I won the fight even though I fought a bad fight, a very bad fight."

Said Tiger:

"I knew he was talk, talk all the time. I knew I could beat him. I was much stronger at weight limit of 160 pounds hurt him last April 25 when he lost that title to then welterweight champion Emile Griffith. At 167, Tiger spotted Torres eight pounds.

A 3-to-1 underdog to Torres, winner of three title defences earlier in the year, Tiger took a boxing lesson from the defender in the first five rounds and then came on like a tidal wave.

Referee Johnny LoBianco had it 10-5 in rounds, judge Frank Forbes 10-4-1 and judge Tony Castellano 8-6-1. The Associated Press also had Tiger the winner, 8-6-1.

During the first five rounds Torres speared the retreating Tiger with left jabs and whacked him with left hooks and rights to the head and body. But in the sixth, Tiger began to score inside with both hands to the head and body.

In the eighth, the tide changed completely. Tiger, who had been lying back, moved in. He forced Torres to trade punches and began to get the edge in the exchanges.

From then on, Tiger dominated the fight and the champion grew more and more listless. The crowd of 13,654, which had cheered Torres at the start, roared for Tiger to keep charging.

Canucks Gain Little Ground

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Vancouver Canucks gained a little ground on league-leading Portland Friday night, edging the California Seals 2-1 in a hot and heavy Western Hockey League game.

Victoria Maple Leafs beat last-place San Diego 4-3 in the only other game.

The Vancouver win put the Canucks within four points of the Buckaroos, thanks to goals from newcomer Bob Jones and veteran Phil Maloney.

Charlie Burns replied for California in a rough-and-tumble tilt.

California's Ron Harris drew a game misconduct for throwing his stick at referee Will Papp and California coach Rudy Pilous scuffled with a goal judge after an apparent California goal was nullified.

The goal judge said the puck didn't go in the Vancouver net, and that's when the trouble started. Burns picked up a misconduct penalty for disputing the call, and Moe Mantha of the Seals drew a five-minute major just four minutes later for high-sticking Vancouver's Ron Boehm.

In San Diego, goals by Mike Laughton and Aut Erickson broke a 2-2 deadlock to give Victoria the win. It was Laughton's second goal of the night. The other Victoria goal came from Lou Jankowski.

Warren Hynes, Del Topoll and Len Haley scored for the Gulls.

Nova Scotia Borrowers To Be Aided By New Act

HALIFAX (CP) — Two acts designed to give Nova Scotians a better break when they borrow money will go into effect Jan. 15.

The acts, the Mortgage Brokers and Lenders Registration Act and the Consumer Protection Act, were passed at the spring session of the legislature and regulations were issued in November.

When they were passed, the acts were the first of their kind in North America. However, the Massachusetts legislature also passed similar legislation this summer.

The first act provides that all mortgage brokers in the province register with the province and any mortgage broker, who lends on security of real estate and charges an interest rate of more than 10 per cent a year, must give the borrower a 24-hour cooling off period.

The second act requires that all other granters of credit to consumers must disclose the cost of borrowing at an annual percentage rate, reflecting the actual out-of-pocket cost to the consumer.

PROVIDES YARDSTICK
Deric Burton of Halifax, registrar of credit for Nova Scotia, said in an interview Thursday the new acts give borrowers "the yardstick by which they can shop for credit meaningfully."

"I think that in a free society if the interest rate is disclosed, the consumer is being given the information necessary to allow him to make a meaningful choice. It doesn't take anything away from the consumer's responsibility to look after himself."

Mr. Burton said there were no cooling-off periods similar to the one in Nova Scotia elsewhere in Canada, although the Prairie provinces have cooling off periods for purchasers from door-to-door salesmen.

Under the Nova Scotia acts credit granters must register with the province and there are heavy fines for companies failing to comply with the requirements of the acts.

While there is a section in the Consumer Protection Act requiring certain disclosures by door-to-door salesmen—price of goods, terms of payment, security, warranty and proper description of goods—it is felt the consumer "still is urging us to control door-to-door sellers," Mr. Burton said.

Lorne Greene, internationally famous patriarch of the Cartwright family, will be joined by a 45-voice UNICEF choir when he takes leave of his usual role to star in Christmas with Lorne Greene, a half-hour special musical tribute to the holiday season to be broadcast on the NBC television network today, at 8:30 p.m. The special show will offer songs by Lorne Greene and the UNICEF choir and cherished recitations evoking the spirit of the yuletide season.

Reds Won't Mention Him But 'Holy Devil' A Helper

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Soviet Communists, preparing for jubilee celebrations of their 50th year in power, are unlikely to mention one man who inadvertently helped the Bolsheviks take over.

The "holy devil" may be remembered by today's Soviet rulers, but probably many in the younger generation would have trouble identifying him.

The evil spell woven by the wild-eyed, bearded Gregor Novikh may have helped hasten the Russian revolution of March, 1917. He may have helped to set it off prematurely, thus setting the stage for the Bolshevik coup which seized Russia the following November. Perhaps it would have happened that way anyway, perhaps not. But in any case, the assassination of Novikh 50 years ago Saturday set in motion events which have affected history ever since.

Novikh was his real name, but superstitious Russians knew him as Rasputin, a term meaning the equivalent of low-down scoundrel.

Rasputin came from Siberia. He spent a bit of his wild youth in a monastery, learning the language of religion which later he perverted to blasphemy. He donned the robes of a monk, posed as an itinerant priest and faith healer.

PAMPERED GENTRY
Rasputin had a peculiar talent for casting his spell over women. The pampered gentry of Petrograd—the proud city that had been St. Petersburg and now is Leningrad—heard of him and brought him to the capital in the days before the First World War. In a short time, Grand Duke Nicholas introduced him to the imperial court.

Rasputin made the most of the opportunity. He unblushingly flattered the tsarina, Alexandra Fyodorovna, comparing her with Catherine the Great. He was aware the empress could dominate the weak and irreso-lute Tsar Nicholas II, who had ascended the throne in 1894. She endowed Rasputin with enormous influence.

The grand duke realized his mistake. In 1913, with clouds of war hanging over Russia, the grand duke arranged to have Rasputin banished to Siberia. But Rasputin maintained correspondence with the tsarina, who eventually was persuaded to bring him back to Petrograd.

For a while, Rasputin was almost dictator of Russia. The people, knowing the tsarina's German background, suspected her of plotting with the holy devil and muttered angrily of treason in the court.

Russia was at war against Germany and doing badly. The nation had 14,000,000 under arms, but morale was low. Troops were infected with the same restless spirit of revolt which spread on the home front. The people were disgusted with their rulers. Officers cursed Rasputin as "a drunken, obscene satyr."

The nobility was becoming desperate. Rasputin had to go. On Dec. 17, 1916, Rasputin was invited to a magnificent banquet at the palace of Prince Felix Yusupov. There he was lured into the palace garden by Yusupov, Grand Duke Dmitri Pavlovich and others, and assassinated.

It did little good. The tsarina at once turned to another sinister figure who had prospered through Rasputin's influence. At the insistence of the court, Alexander Protopov was named interior minister. The public was outraged.

Protopov, an industrialist and landowner, was widely suspected of contacts with German secret agents. He was fanatically convinced that he had a mission to save Russia, and he concocted all manner of schemes based on total oppression of the people by the dread Okhrana, the secret police. If things had been bad before, they were worse now. But the empress seemed certain that the mad monk's influence had been transferred to Protopov, and that thus, Rasputin's spirit was still with her.

All this added to the anger of the people of Petrograd. The anger burst into flame in early March, and shortly after, the tsar and tsarina abdicated. They were executed a year later by the Communists. So was Protopov.

Russia had its "February revolution." But perhaps it was too soon, its leaders in a country still at war unprepared to cope with the enormous job of creating a new order. Within eight months that revolution was swept away and the Communists were in power.

WHAT IS A CHILD WORTH?

Even after parents have provided food, clothing and shelter for their children, their full obligation has not yet been met. Even after luxuries are added there remains a basic need unfulfilled.

The enduring strength of a nation is not in its harvests, its physical comforts, the satisfied appetites of its people, or their fine homes. Lasting strength can be developed only through the spiritual nurture and guidance that we, the people, give our children. The Bible so teaches:

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it" (Proverbs 22:6).

"And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4).

The truly underprivileged child in our material age is the one who has not heard his father and mother read aloud from the Word of God, who has not heard his mother and father in fervent prayer, who has not observed his father and mother practice daily Christian living, and who has not observed his father and mother faithfully worship God.

Respect for authority begins at home. Obedience begins at home. The right sense of values begins at home. Integrity begins at home. All moral and spiritual training begins at home. And all of this takes time — and a genuine sacrificial love for our children. Yet think of the great love of Christ for us: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends" (John 15:13).

We are happy, in this connection of properly rearing our children, to announce a special free booklet, "Handbook for Parents," for all who care to receive one.

An angel tells the aged priest Zacharias that his elderly wife Elizabeth will bear a son, John, who would be great in the Lord's sight. Zacharias doubted and was struck dumb until after the birth.—Luke 1:1-25.

Later, the angel appeared to Mary, telling her she was favored by God and would bear the Son of the Most High. Mary submitted to God's will and the angel told her of Elizabeth's pregnancy.—Luke 1:26-38.

Mary visits Elizabeth, who addresses her as the mother of her Lord, praising her for the honor conferred upon her. Mary answers with the lyrically beautiful Magnificat. She leaves before John's birth.—Luke 1:39-56.

After John's birth, Zacharias' tongue is loosened and he praises God, charging John with fulfillment of the prophecy that he be the forerunner of the Messiah.—Luke 1:57-80.

GOLDEN TEXT: Malachi 3:1

Busy Religious Industry Works In New York Centre

NEW YORK (AP)—Grouped on a single block of land, the various churches share buildings and manpower in running a busy religious industry, day and evening, in the middle of town.

That's the vision — and the prospective reality — which is developing a new city concept, and major Christian denominations have joined forces to put it into operation. It also is taking shape in various ways in many older urban areas.

"The day is gone when any one church can develop an adequate strategy by itself," says Rev. John DeBoer, of the United Church's board of homeland ministries' division of urban extension. It has issued a guidebook for group-clustered churches.

The most advanced of the "new city" projects, among several proposed, is for the town of Columbia, Md., where a versatile, multi-denominational "campus" is planned for religious activities.

"This historic ecumenical venture can set a pattern for a more harmonious mode of life among people of many different faiths," said Bishop Daniel Corrigan, director of the Episcopal (Anglican) Church's home department.

He said it also offered a method for strengthening church influence in future new towns and cities throughout the U.S. The Episcopal Church has become the 12th denomination to enter the plan, pledging $250,000 to it. Altogether, the 12 denominations have put up more than $2,000,000 to back the new approach.

They've formed a joint "religious facilities corporation" to carry it out — the first time that principal Protestant bodies have pooled building finances on such a broad scale of co-operation.

At the Columbia, Md., site, where a complex of nine villages is under way between Baltimore and Washington, the 12-denomination corporation will share ministers and facilities. This will involve common use of buildings, joint administrative offices and expenditures for low-cost housing investment, community youth work and joint religious educational programs for all age groups.

National Council Of Churches Makes Pleas For Peace To LBJ

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The general assembly of the National Council of Churches, the largest body of Protestant and Orthodox churches in the U.S., today appealed to President Johnson to put the Vietnam conflict before the United Nations.

It is in the U.S. interest and in the interest of peace, that such collective judgment, responsibility and action be secured," church representatives declared.

In a lengthy document adopted by the assembly, delegates also urged "serious consideration" of a halt in the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

The assembly said the Vietnam war has become a major and fateful conflict and "cannot be left to the unilateral judgment of any one nation, however powerful or generous."

Togetherness Pays Off As Hawks Grab Wins

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Togetherness is paying off for Chicago Black Hawks.

While other teams break up lines with the efficiency of Reno divorce courts, Hawks are winning by keeping Stan Mikita and Ken Wharram together.

While they have had different mates on left wing, Mikita and Wharram have been skating and scoring together for almost eight seasons.

They'll be out to fill the net tonight when the Black Hawks clash with the Canadiens in Montreal. In tonight's other game, league-leading New York Rangers meet the Maple Leafs in Toronto.

In Sunday's action, Montreal is at Boston, Toronto plays in Chicago and New York is at Detroit.

Mikita and Wharram have started fast this season, with Mikita showing the way as the league's top point-getter with 39, including 27 assists, tops in the NHL in that department.

Wharram has 14 goals and nine assists this season, including four goals against the Canadiens in four games. Mikita, winner of two scoring championships, has one goal and five assists against Montreal.

Wharram has been Mikita's right winger since they broke into the NHL. Wharram from Buffalo of the American Hockey League and Mikita directly from St. Catharines Juniors.

Their first left winger was Ted Lindsay and then Ab McDonald came along. And finally, Doug Mohns, the former Boston defenceman, was placed at left wing and last season he enjoyed his best scoring year with 22 goals and 27 assists.

The Hawks, who share second place with the Maple Leafs, have won three of four games against the Canadiens this season. The Hawks have won 5-0, 5-3 and 2-1.

The Canadiens downed the Hawks 3-1 the last time the two clubs met in Montreal.

CHAUD ET FROID

Montreal's lines have been hot and cold this season and have the lowest scoring record in the league with 54 goals in 22 games. However, coach Toe Blake doesn't plan any changes for tonight's game.

Netminder Gump Worsley's status is still indefinite. The Montreal goalie has another date Monday with the club doctor for an examination of the small cartilage tear in his right knee. He suffered the injury against Toronto 10 days ago.

As a result, Charlie Hodge will start in nets tonight with Gary Bauman as backup netminder.

The Maple Leafs will face the high-flying Rangers with Bruce Gamble in nets.

Gamble will replace veteran Johnny Bower, who has a sore shoulder. Bower took a hard shot in Wednesday's game against Boston.

Terry Sawchuk, the other Toronto netminder, is still in hospital for tests on his back. Gary Smith, up from Rochester of the AHL, will serve as the backup goaltender to Gamble.

Gamble came close to not playing in tonight's game. He was hit on the throat by a puck in Thursday's practice. However, it wasn't serious.

The Rangers have lost only one game in their last 10 outings and they will be out to increase their lead in the standings. New York has 30 points, one more than Toronto and Chicago.

Rod Gilbert has been leading the way for the Rangers with seven goals in his last four games. He leads the league in the goal-scoring department with 15. He is also tied for third place in the individual scoring race with Norm Ullman. Both have 24 points, one fewer than Phil Goyette, Gilbert's teammate.

The Rangers are also getting some outstanding netminding from Ed Giacomin, who has a 2.25 goals-against average. Giacomin also has three shut-outs and shares the lead in that department with Detroit's Roger Crozier.

Fans 'Lure' Aim Of CFL

TORONTO (CP) — Senator Keith Davey, commissioner-elect of the Canadian Football League, says he will promote the game by upgrading its fan appeal.

Dick Beddoes, writing in the Globe Magazine, a weekend supplement of The Globe and Mail, says Davey advocates wrapping up defensive football with the garbage, paying officials more money, making the teams help the have-nots, giving the game back to the fans.

Davey replaces Sydney Halter of Winnipeg as commissioner Jan. 1. Beddoes, in an interview with Davey, deduces that the commissioner-elect will leave no stone unturned in his bid to promote football, with everything from better stadiums to pretty girls.

The story quotes Davey: "I first have to affect one league. I've got to implement the C.O.O.L. report to bring East and West into a genuine football confederation."

C.O.O.L. is the Committee On One League, comprising the presidents of the nine CFL clubs. The committee, formed last winter, has failed to agree on the controversial areas of gate equalization and sharing television revenues.

"In gate equalization, the have-give to the have-nots. We are having trouble getting Toronto Argonauts to give all the way."

"I can understand the reluctance of the eastern clubs to give up money. They're all privately owned, and contributions are bound to belt somebody in the private wallet."

Mrs. Alice Leflar (Jr.) and family extend to their friends the warmest Greetings for the Holiday Season.

Teams Watch Fate On TV

Dallas Cowboys, with everything to gain, and Buffalo Bills, with everything to lose, keep a television death watch today while their futures are decided at St. Louis and New York.

Dallas, gunning for its first National Football League division crown, was sitting pretty at kickoff time in St. Louis, where the Cardinals battled for survival against Cleveland Browns.

The Bills, however, had something to fidget about as Boston Patriots sought to the Bills' two-year American Football League reign by downing the Jets at New York.

Regardless of the Cardinals Browns outcome, the Cowboys know they still will be in the driver's seat Sunday, when they meet New York's defenceless Giants in their regular-season windup.

Opening lead—three of hearts.
In most hands you don't have to do anything spectacular to get the best possible result. All you need to do is keep on making the right bid or the right play whenever it's your turn and nature will take care of the rest.

For example, take this deal which occurred in a Life Masters pair championship. It was easy enough to make three no-trump; the trick was to make four against the normal heart lead by West. The extra 30 points would certainly mean very little in the ordinary rubber bridge game, but, in duplicate, an extra trick is frequently worth its weight in gold.

Those declarers who exercised proper technique were rewarded with a good match point score for making four no-trump. They ducked the heart lead when East played the queen, and won the return with the ace.

When they now played a low spade to the queen, East, generally ducked, and when South returned to his hand with a diamond and led another spade to the king, East took it with the ace and returned his last heart to the king.

Declarer next cashed the jack of spades, hoping for a 3-3 division, but West showed out. Three more rounds of diamonds, ending in dummy, permitted declarer to throw East into the lead with a spade and force a club return away from the king. As a result, South made four no-trump.

Note that if South wins the first heart lead West can later overtake East's heart return and shift to a club to destroy the potential endplay.

Note also South's method of dealing with the spades by leading low twice towards dummy. This play made no difference in the actual hand, but it might very well have gained the extra trick without the endplay if West had been dealt the A-x of spades.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
Congenial relationships will mark this day, with the result that any group activity should prove highly enjoyable. Also favored: Romance, travel and entertainment interests.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates a highly satisfactory year, with occupational affairs advancing between now and mid-February; during the first three weeks of March, the last week of September, the first three weeks of October and throughout November. And, where financial matters are concerned, you can expect many gains — notably between now and February 21st, during the first three weeks of April, in September and October. Conservatism along these lines is advised during the first three weeks of March and throughout June, however.

Where your personal life is concerned, look for happy developments in your sentimental interests during the latter half of January, in February, June and late October. Do not take the “romances” of May, September and next November too seriously, however. If careful to avoid friction in domestic circles — especially in late February, early March, late June and early July — your home and family life should be exceptionally pleasant. Best periods for travel and stimulating social activities: The next month, the first three weeks of May, next June and September.

Free Worship Move Grows

MADRID (AP) — Legislation granting almost complete freedom of worship to non-Catholic groups in Spain is making slow progress.

The latest word is that the proposal may be only three or four months away from final passage. The big question is how much, if at all, the new religious freedom law will eventually free the religious keystone of the Spanish constitution, which says: “The profession and practice of the Catholic religion, which is the religion of the Spanish state, will have official protection. No other ceremonies or external activities will be permitted than those of the Catholic religion.”

Three years ago officials announced a law was “almost ready” to bring religious freedom to Spain's 30,000 Protestants, Jews and other religious minorities.

Two years ago members of the Franco government stated the cabinet had approved the religious liberty law.

CHANGED MINDS
Somewhere along the way, conservatives in the cabinet took a second look at the law and changed their minds. From then until a few months ago, progress seemed to be one step forward and two back.

Then Foreign Minister Fernando Maria Castiella and Justice Minister Antonio Maria de Oriol y Urquijo put on pressure, with the assistance of Chief of State Francisco Franco. The law was refurbished and in effect approved by Franco's cabinet. Then it was shunted to the Spanish House of Bishops for approval — presumably to avert complaints from the Roman Catholic hierarchy once the bill became law.

A child born on this day will be intuitive, conscientious and highly trustworthy.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW
Despite the possibility of some minor complications, Monday should be a fairly good day. Routine affairs will probably advance more than new enterprises but in the latter connection, practically any constructive plan or endeavor should show some progress.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If Monday is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that it would be advisable to take advantage of all possibilities for advancing your job status between now and February 15th, since stars promise not only gratifying results for your efforts but also increased earnings during this period. Next good cycles for advancement: The first three weeks of March, the last week in September, the first three weeks in October and throughout next November. Planetary influences also indicate an advance in your monetary status between now and February 21st, during the first three weeks of April and throughout September and October. Do be cautious with monies during the first three weeks of March and throughout June, however.

Romance, travel and social activities should enliven a large part of the year, with the accent on sentimental matters during the latter half of this month, in February, June and late October; on travel and stimulating social developments for the next month, the first three weeks in May, next June and September.

A child born on this day will be endowed with intellectual and creative ability and unusual integrity.

TRY AND STOP ME By Bennett Cerf

IN CZARIST RUSSIA there once dwelled a rabbi with such a golden voice that everybody clamored to hear him. In his sleigh he made a triumphal tour. In every city he visited, pretty girls pelted him with roses and rich merchants piled him with compliments and gifts.

Outside one town the rabbi's faithful driver stopped the sleigh and suggested, “Rabbi, for once I'd like to be the one receiving all the honors and attention. Just for tonight, change clothes with me. You be the driver and I'll be the rabbi.”

The preacher, a merry and generous soul, agreed, but added, “Remember, clothes do not make the man. If you're asked to explain some difficult passage of the Talmudic Laws, see that you don't make a fool of yourself.”

The exchange was effected. When the two men arrived at their destination, the bogus rabbi was received with tumultuous enthusiasm, and obviously enjoyed every minute of it. Furthermore, since he had heard the rabbi's speech a hundred times, he delivered it faultlessly.

Then, however, came the dreaded question period. Sure enough, an aged scholar arose and propounded a tricky, delicate question. The real rabbi in the back of the hall groaned, “Now he'll make a fool of himself.” But the driver was equal to the occasion.

“A fine scholar you are!” he scoffed. “Why, your problem is such a simple one that even the old dull-witted fellow who drives my sleigh must know the answer. Driver, come up here to the platform and answer this poor fellow!”

The artist Utrillo is reputed to have saved the Mona Lisa for the Louvre when the Nazis occupied Paris by persuading them it was a copy. The original was spirited out of France months ago, he asserted them. And they believed him.

AROUND B.C.

Sudsy Cargo In The Drink

CRANBROOK (CP)—A truckload of beer foamed into the St. Mary's River near here Friday when a transport truck, loaded with the sudsy beverage, skidded on a hill and spilled its cargo.

MAN DIES

VANCOUVER (CP) — Joseph S. Swarbrick, 80, died in hospital Friday night after being struck by a car. His death brought the 1966 Vancouver pedestrian death toll to a record 50.

HARBOR CLEARING

VANCOUVER (CP) — The backlog in the port of Vancouver began to show improvement Friday, with the number of ships in the harbor reduced from a high of 65 during the longshore foremen's strike, to 60.

SAFE CRACKED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Safe-crackers, using an acetylene torch, escaped with $7,000 in cheques and cash from a transport company office early Friday.

COLLEGE MOVES

TRAIL (CP) — Selkirk College's 450 students will move from renovated bunkhouses at Castlegar into their new building in Trail in time for the start of the second term Jan. 16, college principal Gordon Campbell announced Friday.

Court Clears P.Q. Girl

MONTREAL (CP) — Michele Saunier, 32, was acquitted Friday of two charges connected with a plot by others to blow up the Statue of Liberty and two additional national monuments in the United States.

Miss Saunier, a French-born lecturer in psychology, was found innocent of a charge that she conspired with Robert Steele Collier of New York and Michele Duclos, formerly of Montreal, in January and February, 1965, to obtain explosives with the intention of endangering lives and damaging property.

Miss Saunier, who worked in Montreal, also was acquitted of a charge of having been in possession, either personally or through other persons, of explosives.

Collier was sentenced to 10 years after being convicted in the U.S. of conspiring to blow up the landmarks. Miss Duclos received a five-year suspended sentence. Two U.S. citizens besides Collier also were sentenced to 10 years.

Seaway Near 'To Suicide'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway may face economic suicide unless it is removed from its "financial straitjacket," Senator Birch E. Bayh (Dem. Ind.) said Thursday night.

A proposed 10-per-cent increase in the seaway tolls could bring financial disaster for the operation, he said.

Bayh addressed members of the Great Lakes Commission from eight member states and two Canadian provinces at the close of the commission's two-day annual meeting.

"The St. Lawrence Seaway is the key to the economic development of the previously landlocked 'breadbasket of America,'" he said.

"The seaway is the Midwest's window on the world, providing us with access to the all-important markets of Europe and beyond."

In terms of cost-per-bushel of wheat, the seaway's present toll was approximately one cent. A 10-per-cent increase, proposed by some, would neutralize the seaway's natural advantages and cause loss to gulf ports of shipments whose outlet otherwise would be the St. Lawrence.

CHRIST NEEDS IMAGE

CHEAM, England (CP) — A Surrey Methodist minister is sounding the clarion call to make Christ more "popular" among youngsters. In a letter to church workers Rev. Trevor Martin said: "We must meet the challenge and make Jesus a more popular hero. Under present circumstances the image of Batman is more popular than the image of Jesus."
